

Summer Term 2026

Welcome to the Summer edition of our Family Support newsletter. The school year always goes by so quickly, and it's been a pleasure to help support so many of our families this year. As the Summer holidays approach, we hope you get to enjoy quality time together and take advantage of all the wonderful things our local area has to offer.

As always, we hope to meet the needs of our children and families and offer support. If you need further help, please do contact us. We can guide you to services that will provide you with any assistance you may need. Please let us know if there is any other information you feel could be added to future newsletters.

If you need any support, advice or a listening ear, please contact the office and ask to leave a message for Mrs. Warren – Nurture Learning Mentor/Family Support.

Local Area

We are so lucky to have so many green spaces and places to visit on our doorstep. Many are free and a great way to spend a day during the summer break.

- The Horniman's museum is a wonderful space to spend a few hours. Entrance is free; there is a new play space for children and an animal walkway. There are lots of free activities throughout the summer. For more information, click on the link below:

- Penge Library are also offering a range of free activities this summer including the reading challenge.

Greens spaces include Penge Recreation ground, Alexandra Recreation ground, Beckenham Place Park, Dulwich Park, Mayor Park, Dulwich woods, and Kelsey Park to name just a few.

Don't forget children aged 5-10 can travel free around London with a paying adult, when they have a zip oyster card.

Local services

The summer holidays can also be difficult for families, but there are local services to help support you.

Bromley Y - The website offers a vast array of services and information. There are many informational webinars for parents and carers around transition to secondary school, fears and worries, sleep difficulties and emotional school avoidance. The link below sets out dates and booking detail:
